Living with a Tree Nut Allergy

Living with a food allergy doesn’t have to prevent you from enjoying wholesome and nutritious foods. The good news is that manufactures are required to state whether or not their product contains the following eight most common allergens – peanuts, tree nuts, soy, milk, eggs, fish, shellfish and wheat. Allergen information can be found near the nutrition facts label.

As the saying goes “When in doubt, throw it out.” A food allergy can cause a potential life-threatening reaction. So, if you are uncertain whether the food contains tree nuts, do not eat the food. Manufactures change ingredients, so even if you buy the product frequently, always check the food label before you make a purchase. Potential allergens could also be present in foods if it is produced or manufactured in a plant containing allergenic foods – this is called cross contamination. It is always important to read foods labels before you buy.

Your best choices are going to be to select whole foods and limit your consumption of processed foods. Processed foods, like those that come in a box or can, usually have more allergens because of the additives, flavorings, coloring and preservatives added.
